

2007-8

Direct Instruction Training
Training in effective teaching methods.

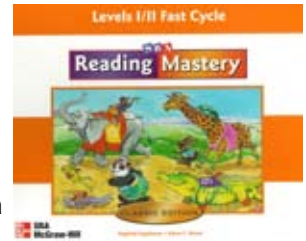

These hands-on workshops are a must for all teachers, administrators, and parents who want to teach beginning reading skills using the Direct Instruction programs. The programs are intended for students in Grade 1 or higher. Topics to be covered include: placement, lesson presentation formats, and error correction procedures.

Participants will learn and practice presentation techniques for teaching phonemic awareness, word attack, and story reading skills. Participants will receive a series guide as a part of the training package. Please note that teaching materials are not included in the price of the training.

To register, call (416) 944-8185 or email training@anguslloyd.com. Enrollment is limited and will take place on a first-come, first-served basis. The cost for the workshop is $250.00 per person. Discounts are available for groups of three or more.

Reading Mastery I/II & Fast Cycle

Reading Mastery is a mastery-based beginning reading program that teaches phonemic awareness skills, phonetic and structural analysis skills, and focuses on reading fluency. Reading Mastery I/II Fast Cycle will take a student from a beginning reading level to a late grade-two reading level in 170 lessons.
